Mudpluggers

4.0 Bank Account

The Royal bank of Scotland have succeeded in losing two out of three documents submitted to them to change the signatories to the account. I have had several long and acrimonious conversations with them, and have registered a formal complaint. A compensation sum of £30 has been received as I objected to having to use an 0845 premium rate number to contact them. Some calls lasted over an hour. At the end of the day there seems to be no way to rectify the situation except to resubmit the documentation, this will be done following the August Association meeting.
